Subject:	Deny the City of Racine"s water diversion application for FoxConn
Date:	Thursday, March 08, 2018 5:02:24 PM

Diverting 7 million gallons of water per day from Lake Michigan to Mount Pleasant, chiefly to serve Foxconn's future manufacturing facility, violates the multi-state Great Lakes Compact.

Allowing a diversion for a private company threatens the whole Great Lakes region. Diversions outside the Great Lakes basin are as big a threat to the Great Lakes as invasive species and climate change.

Section 4.9.1 of the compact states "all the water so transferred shall be used solely for public water supply purposes within the straddling community."
The compact further defines "public water supply" as serving "largely residential customers that may also serve industrial, commercial and other institutional operators."

In this situation, Racine will use the majority, if not the entirety, of the diverted Great Lakes water to serve the industrial needs of a single, private, foreign industrial entity.

For these reasons, I am requesting you deny the city of Racine's water diversion application.
