As a citizen of Wisconsin, I request that the DNR reject Foxconn's request for a diversion of Lake Michigan water for the following reasons:

Foxconn is not within the Great Lakes Basin.
The water is not being diverted for public consumption as required by the Great Lakes Compact.
Foxconn says they'll use 40% of the water and not return it to the lake, which is also outside of the Compact rules.
And we don't know how they'll use the water.

Save Great Lakes water for the people who liver here. Please deny this request.

Sincerely,
Kerry Duma
