I am writing to express my deep concern about the proposed water diversion for Racine related to the Foxconn plan. I believe approving this diversion would set a very bad precedent for our Great Lakes water, a public resource.

All of the water that would be drawn from the lake would go to Foxconn, a private company The Great Lakes Compact is clear that water being diverted outside of the Great Lakes Basin must be used primarily for residential purposes.

Plus, nearly 40 percent of water given to Foxconn would be lost to the manufacturing process and never be returned to the Lake. this is NOT in the best interests of the state and certainly not of the citizens atound the Lake.

The DNR has a duty and responsibility to uphold the integrity of the Great Lakes Compact, enshrined in Wisconsin law.

Thank you,
