Given Foxconn's terrible record for complying with environmental and human safety and well-being, and given the amount of heavy metals and other dangerous chemicals they use in manufacturing which will end up in our waterways, and given the reality of global warming and the dangers that poses to the availability of fresh water, and given the significant waiver they already have for many environmental regulations, I strongly oppose Racine's request to draw 7 million gallons of water a day from Lake Michigan and any use by Foxconn of our Great Lake.
