Adam Freihoefer,

The City of Racine's request for a new diversion of 7 million gallons a day violates the intent of the Great Lakes Compact. This diversion request is primarily for private industrial use (Foxconn) rather than public use ("largely residential") as required by the Great Lakes Compact.

The Great Lakes Compact states, "all the Water so transferred shall be used solely for Public Water Supply Purposes within the Straddling Community."

This diversion application for FoxConn also does not provide enough detail about the quality of the water that will be returned to the City of Racine and Lake Michigan.

For these reasons, the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources must deny this application. Water is a critical resource and must be protected.

Thank you for denying this application.
