From:	Beck Tesch
To:	DNR Racine Diversion Comments
Subject:	NO WATER FOR FOXCONN
Date:	Tuesday, March 13, 2018 12:14:04 PM

---

1. The diversion request can only come from a public water utility. City of Racine has a public water utility; the Village of Mt. Pleasant does not. Mt. Pleasant is a Great Lakes Basin "straddling community." The Great Lakes Compact states that the majority of the water used in a straddling community is for PUBLIC USE not corporate or business use. Just based on that alone the DNR application should be denied.

2. Foxconn gave NO PRIOR INFORMATION on how the water will be treated on site or what chemicals and contaminants are used in their process. Why did the city of Racine even apply for the water diversion permit without knowing this?

3. There is no existing reliable treatment for nanoparticles.

4. If this permit is approved it will be a "Katy bar the doors" situation for every straddling community anywhere along the Great Lakes Basin to allow corporations to get water. This is exactly why the Great Lakes Compact was written. There would no longer be any legal recourse to stop the water use rush.

5. The water pipeline is already being dug. So, was this always a done deal? Are the hearings a sham? Is the entire point of having citizens' input just a fake process? Has our government totally abandoned us for corporations?

This is completely unacceptable. Please enforce the Great Lakes compact as well as upholding the standards for these permits.

Thank you,

Becky Tesch
---
etsy.com/shop/ChainStay
http://www.flickr.com/photos/becktesch/sets/