

"THE CHATTER"

Published bi-weekly by members of
Camp Crivitz, Co. 3629, Crivitz,
Wisconsin

Volume 1 Number 4 Nov. 10, 1936

Editorial Staff

Editor.....Williams
Editorial.....Williams
Cover.....Roscoe
Headings.....Roscoe
Typists.....Robert & Thomson
Sports.....Battistella
Dispensary News.....Wurzer
Inquiring Reporter.....Stoddard
Voice of the Kitchen.....Miller
Forestry.....Cossotto
Personal Notes.....Stoddard
Humor.....Smith

Army Officials

Lt. H.A. Ruhe.....Commanding
Lt. R.O. Benson.....Junior Officer
Lt. N.A. McGreene.....Camp Surgeon
R.F. Kennedy.....Educational Adviser

Forestry Officials

H. Steiro.....Project Superintendent
R. Adams.....Asst. Superintendent

Foremen

Russ Larabee Meng Schantz Piper

A Dedication

We the publishers of the Camp Crivitz Chatter dedicate this number in honor of the World War dead who gave their lives in order that the world be made safe for Democracy. On November 11, at eleven o'clock A.M., we, the living will pay tribute to these honored dead that died in the "War to End War."

This day eighteen years ago was one of rejoicing in every corner of the civilized world. On that day hostilities ceased and a struggle that had raged for five years over Europe came to an end. Today as we look back we wonder if that war really was the "War to End War."

Choice of Books

Too many men are reading the dime novel type of literature that adorn one corner of our reading room. These novels are interesting for variety but do not read them all of the time. Our library shelves contain many new novels in our new traveling library. Besides these there are many good non-fiction books. Among them are the Story of Mankind by Hendrik Van Loon. This is a fine story by a very good author. Job Hunting and Job getting by Balden are also good.